NEWS ABOUT LABORERS.

TERMINATION OF THE BUILDING TRADES LOCKOUT IN ALBANY.

A Resolution Passed by the Master Builders—Effects of the Trouble on Business. Action of the Knights of Labor—Among the Chicago Packers—Elsewhere.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 29.—The lockout of the building trades, which has kept 8,000 men out of employment here, has virtually terminated, and work was resumed on many buildings. The master builders passed a resolution that every member of their organization employing more than two men shall hereafter employ such workmen as he may choose, without regard to any association; that in the decision of the questions as to the parties with whom he shall enter into contracts for the purchase and sale of materials used in his business he will not submit to or be governed by the rules of any such association.

The labor unions and Knights of Labor were notified of this action and also that shops would be open this morning for those who were willing to return. The bricklayers, plasterers, plumbers and tin men still hold out, but the strength of the Protective association and the boycott is broken. This will undoubtedly lead to the opening of a series of independent or non-union shops. The union men, threaten, however, that if non-union men are put to work a strike will be ordered. In the event of a strike all the strikers can draw from the sustenance fund.

In the lockout not a cent could be drawn from that fund. The Knights of Labor have condemned the boycott which has precipitated the lockout, and now assert that they will probably order all knights to withdraw from the labor unions. The loss in wages for the week has been about $60,000.

OPPOSING UNIONS.

The Knights of Labor and Cigarmakers' Union.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 29.—An informal meeting of the Cigarmakers' Protective union, No. 4, was held at Workmen's hall last evening for the purpose of receiving dues. From the general expression of opinion among this class of workmen it is evident that a bitter fight is being carried on between the cigarmakers' organization and the Knights of Labor.

It was reported that the last communication of F. W. Brisling, the general organizer for the union, stated that the greatest difficulty is found in holding the field against the Knights of Labor. At Wilmington, Del., he found that the Knights of Labor had captured the cigarmakers there, and he experienced the same trouble at Trenton and Bordertown, N. J. At Baytown, Pa., he organized a branch, but the Knights of Labor took them into camp before they had secured their charter.

To counteract the influence of the Knights of Labor he was sent on a tour through the New England states. On going to the northwest he found the cigarmakers and Knights of Labor at Milwaukee engaged in an earnest contest. At Appleton and Menomonie, Wis., he was defeated by the Knights of Labor. In certain parts of Pennsylvania he found that the Knights of Labor had issued a grade label for cheap goods. This, he said, was done on the advice of Fred Turner, general secretary. At Scranton, Pa., Mr. Brisling met with better success, and eventually planted the Cigarmakers' union in the home of T. V. Powderly.

The cigarmakers say that Mr. Hays, of the general executive board of Knights of Labor, has sent out a man to the assemblies with instructions that all Knights of Labor are to boycott the label of the Cigarmakers' International union, and that F. B. Barry, the Michigan member of the board, went to Milwaukee recently and advised the manufacturers to accept only the Knights of Labor label. It is also said that the supreme authorities of the Knights of Labor have recently issued a secret circular calling upon all members to boycott the product of all factories where the Knights of Labor are not recognized as the only union men.

Mr. Fred Meyer, vice president of the Cigarmakers' International union, has resigned. By a vote of the vari ous branches, the vacancy will soon be filled, as quite a number of nominations have been made.

Liability to Involve $20,000 Men.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—The packers have made another effort to get back to the ten hour system and the result is that the beef butchers at Armour's are on a strike. The situation is so serious that the whole packing house force of twenty thousand men will probably be involved this week.

Cigar Manufacturers' Convention.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29.—The second National convention of cigar manufacturers of the United States began its session last night at the Continental hotel. About 15 delegates were present, representing an annual manufacture of 1,000,000 cigars. Edward Heyman, of New York, was chosen president of the convention.

Bricklayers' Wages in Charleston.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 29.—A leading contractor says that in his belief from 5.00 to 1,000 additional bricklayers and plasterers could obtain employment here during the winter and spring at $4 per day or more.

NEW JERSEY DEMOCRATS.

Meeting of the State Convention at Trenton—Temporary Organization.

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 29.—The New Jersey Democratic state convention met at Taylor opera house. The stage and the front of the gallery are elaborately festooned with flags. The weather is so warm that every man is prepared for a heated session and nearly every one has a palm-leaf fan and is working hard to keep cool. The outside representation from all sections of the state is the largest in many years and universal interest is shown in the proceedings. The total number of delegates is 638. At 12:30 o'clock the band stationed in the gallery struck up a lively air, and at 12:30 Rufus Blodgett, one of the candidates for nomination as governor, called the convention to order.

Judge John W. Wescott, of Camden, was unanimously chosen temporary chairman. He counseled moderation in the true spirit of Democracy, with a view to the object for which they had assembled, namely, the best interests of the Democratic party and the country. He paid a handsome tribute to the memory of Samuel J. Tilden, and pointed to him as an example of a patriot who had laid aside personal considerations for the benefit of the nation. The two great problems to be solved in this century, he said, were taxation and the relations between capital and labor. In this connection his allusion to Governor Abbott, as the promoter of the best system of taxation known in the United States was received with loud applause.

A resolution in memory of Samuel J. Tilden was presented by George S. Dursey, of Newark, and was unanimously adopted.

After the appointments of the various committees, the convention took a recess, preparatory to the permanent organization. The indications point to the nomination of Judge Roberts Green for governor on an early ballot, notwithstanding the fact that the Kelsey faction have been hard at work at a possible combination to defeat him.

THE WOMEN OF WISCONSIN.

Annual Convention of the Women's Suffrage Association at Racine.

RACINE, Wis., Sept. 29.—The church of the Good Shepherd was crowded to the doors when the three days' annual convention of the Women's Suffrage Association of Wisconsin was formally called to order. Among the eminent advocates of the movement who occupied seats upon the platform were Rev. Olympia Brown, Susan B. Anthony, Dr. Alice B. Stockholm, Mrs. E. Boynton Harbert, Mrs. Hattie Tyn Griswold and Mrs. Emma C. Bascom.

The annual report, which was presented by Mrs. Laura James, stated that great progress had been made in the movement throughout the state, and referred with pleasure to the fact that at the ensuing election the voters of Wisconsin would be called upon to decide the question of school suffrage for women. Reference was also made to the fact, as showing how Wisconsin had led in the movement, that as far back as thirty years ago Hon. C. L. Sholes, from the committee on the expiration and re-enactment of laws, had in the state legislature made a report in favor of conceding the right of suffrage to the women of the state; while eighteen years ago the first women's suffrage convention was held in Milwaukee.

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS VETERANS.

Mrs. General Grant to Attend Their Reunion at Cairo.

CAIRO, Ill., Sept. 29.—The annual reunion of the Southern Illinois Soldiers' association opened here to-day with a large attendance, including delegations of Union veterans from Missouri and Kentucky. The reunion, which is to last for three days, is expected to be rendered noteworthy by the presence of Mrs. Grant, the widow of the deceased ex-president, together with Col. Fred Grant, having accepted invitations to be special guests of the occasion.

This will be Mrs. Grant's first appearance at a public gathering since the death of her husband. Among the special incidents of the reunion will be a steamboat excursion down the Mississippi to Belmont battlefield, sixteen miles below Cairo, on the Missouri side of the river, the battle of Belmont in the opinion of the veterans of southern Illinois having been the greatest of Gen. Grant's engagements during the war.

The Galathea's Monkey Disgusted.

MARLBOROUGH, Mass., Sept. 29.—The official announcement of the postponement of the Galathea-Mayflower race was made at 9:30, there being almost a dead calm and heavy fog on the bay. Everybody, including the monkey on the Galathea, are becoming disgusted with the weather, and fears are entertained that the race will finally be declared off.

Shooting in a Sunday School.

SEDAKA, Kan., Sept. 29.—At Sunday-school last Sunday in this place, Simon Smith, colored, shot and wounded William Andrews, colored, against whom he had an old grudge. He shot at him again, but the bullet struck and killed an old negro named Ben Williams. A mob of colored people tried to lynch the murderer, but he was safely lodged in jail.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Judge Garrett has begun the hearing of the case of riot against Frank Barsett, a young Bohemian, who is charged with leading the assault upon Rosenthal's drug store, at the corner of Eleventh street and Central avenue, on May 5. The line of the defense is, as usual, toward an alibi.

GREAT RIOT AT LEIPSIG.

FOUR HUNDRED SOCIALISTS HAVE A FIGHT WITH THE POLICE.

The Waving of the Red Flag Brings on the Attack, and a Severe Fight Ensues, in Which Many are Wounded—Rioting in Carcassone Over a Statue Unveiling.

LEIPSIG, Sept. 29.—Four hundred Socialists were marching through the streets, with Herr Schumann, the expelled Socialist, at their head. They began waving red flags, when the police attacked them and attempted to capture the flags, but after a severe fight were beaten back by the Socialists, many persons being wounded in the affray. The police received reinforcements and dispersed the Socialists, capturing seven of them, including Herr Schumann.

Tumult and Disorder at Carcassone.

PARIS, Sept. 29.—A statue of Armand Barbes, the French conspirator and Red Republican, was inaugurated at Carcassone. There was an immense crowd of people present and much tumult and disorder prevailed, caused by the Revolutionists denying the right of the Moderationists to monopolize Barbes. The Communists, carrying red flags, broke into the enclosure reserved for the speakers, and many women and children were trampled under foot, while the officials retreated from the place.

DEATH IN THE SIGNAL SERVICE.

Death Invades the Signal Service Station at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 29.—At 11 o'clock this morning Ernest S. Comings, the assistant observer of the signal service at this station, died at the hospital after a siege of a month with typhoid fever. During all his illness he was hopeful of the final outcome and expressed confidence that he would recover as late as last night. Comings was but a young man, twenty-six years of age.

He graduated from Dartmouth college in 1883 and at once entered the service, coming direct from the instruction school to Cincinnati two years ago. He was a faithful, bright fellow, and the best assistant Sergeant Jenks says he ever had. During his residence here he has been prominently identified with the Cincinnati Society of Natural History, and was one of the prominent members of Trinity M. E. church. In his last days he was attended by his sister, Mrs. D. A. Plummer, of Lee, N. H., and to that place in the Granite State, his old home, she will take his remains for burial.

The Webster Murder Case.

WARREN, O., Sept. 29.—There is much excitement here over sensational developments in the Webster murder case. The defense seem to have found a valuable witness in the person of a son of Judge Tuttle, of Warren. Young Tuttle alleges that Arthur Battles, who has given damaging testimony against Webster in this and the preceding trials, while in conversation with him, Tuttle, called Webster all the vile and obscene names he could think of, and said that he had always dominated over him, Battles. Tuttle also states that Battles declared that he had come to Warren on purpose to help put Webster out of the way. The story causes a decided sensation, and if it proves true, will turn the tide of public feeling in Webster's favor and have much weight with the jury.

The New Andover Doctrine.

BOSTON, Sept. 29.—The Andover Review for October will devote all its editorial space to the consideration of the action of the prudential commission of the American board in the rejection of missionaries and of candidates, both men and women, who have offered themselves for the missionary field. This looks like the beginning of the long expected theological war over the new Andover doctrine of probation after death. The editor alleges that in the anxiety to press abstruse doctrines the board is neglecting the important question of sending genuinely useful men on missions.

Accident or Suicide.

BUFFALO, Sept. 29.—The young man who was found dead, and was supposed to have committed suicide in a room of the Chicago hotel yesterday morning, proves to be Ward B. Aylesworth, late train dispatcher of the Troy & Boston railroad, at Troy. His parents reside at Oxford, N. Y. It is believed that Aylesworth shot himself in trying to put his pistol under the pillow of his bed, as there are no indications of a determined suicide. He was about twenty-eight years old.

A Quarrel's Tragic Ending.

GALLIPOLIS, O., Sept. 29.—Near Ashton, W. Va., about twelve miles below here, Wilber Bias shot Ed Starkey through the heart, and he expired instantly. It seems that a game of cards had been the order of the day, which wound up with an altercation about a woman, and upon Starkey notifying Bias to prepare for a whipping, the latter made his defense in the manner described. It is reported that Starkey was quite a bully, and that public sentiment sides with Bias.

Acute Pneumonia Spreading.

MANHATTAN, Sept. 29.—Pneumo-pneumonia has broken out among the cattle twenty-five miles north of here belonging to W. J. Etherington. Two weeks ago a carload of cattle was brought from Chicago. Ten head died and forty more are affected. Steps are being taken by the local board of health to guard against any further trouble.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRES.

Cincinnati Suffers a $30,000 Loss and a Village Destroyed in Florida.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 29.—At 9:40 this morning an alarm was turned in from Cohen & Leiser's publishing and engraving house, 63 Longworth street. The alarm was given by employees at work on the sixth floor, in the next to the rear room. These men saw smoke issuing through the cracks in the wall, and they immediately fled for their lives. Indeed, three engravers, who were not so spry as the other men, were forced to come down from the top story on a rope fire escape, which they had purchased immediately after the disastrous Sullivan fire. This rope in all probability saved their lives.

The building is a large six-story brick, very substantial, and was built at a cost of $32,000. Cohen & Co. own the structure. The origin of the fire is a mystery, some claiming it to have started from spontaneous combustion in one of the sixth-floor back rooms. There was no fire about the building except in the cellar, where the engine is stationed. John Powell, bookbinder, occupies the fourth floor; George P. James, printer, binder and lithographer, the basement, third and fifth, and Cohen & Co. the sixth. On the ground floor are published the Spokesman, Furniture Worker and Lumber Worker.

A rough estimate of the loss places the figures at $30,000. The principal loss will be in the valuable wood cuts, which were warped all out of shape by fire and heat on the sixth floor. The great trouble is that these are foreign cuts of Freemasonry, History of the World, etc., and can never be replaced.

Thirty Buildings Destroyed.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 9.—Fire broke out about 1:30 o'clock in Deland, Volusia county, this state, and destroyed thirty buildings in the business portion of the town. It began in Wilcox's saloon and it is believed to have been of incendiary origin. Loss about $72,000. All records are destroyed and the extent of the insurance cannot be determined.

Chicago's Loss of $50,000.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—A blaze started this morning in the four-story brick building at the corner of Randolph street and Michigan Avenue, occupied by George W. Ludlow, manufacturer of ladies' fine shoes, and damaged the stock and fixtures to the extent of $50,000. Four hundred employees will be temporarily thrown out of work by the fire.

Another Earthquake at Charleston.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 29.—Slight earthquake shocks were felt here at 2 and 4 o'clock this morning by people who happened to be awake at that time. At two minutes past 1 o'clock this afternoon, however, there was a sharp shock, accompanied by the usual rumbling noise. The shock was violent enough to shake buildings, and caused many people to rush out into the streets. The continuation of these shocks on the eve of Wiggins' prediction, has a demoralizing effect upon the people here, and many will sleep in the open air to-night. The quake this afternoon lasted six or eight seconds, but it seems to have been felt only in Charleston and its immediate vicinity.

Steamer Saratoga Aground.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Sept. 29.—The Troy Line steamer Saratoga is aground a few miles south of Tivoli. She has about 250 passengers on board and a good load of freight. On her way from Troy to New York last night during a storm she grounded, and all efforts of the tugs and ferryboat to get her off were fruitless. The passengers were obliged to remain on board all night. There is no hope of getting them ashore until 2 o'clock to-day, when high tide will admit of the approach of the ferryboat. A telegram was received here this morning asking that a tug be sent to pull the steamer off at high tide.

Anti-Chinese Rioters Not Guilty.

SEATTLE, W. T., Sept. 29.—The jury in the case of Rochester, McMullen, Bulgar, Metcalf, Kidd and Winscott, who were accused of being the leaders in the anti-Chinese riot here last February, returned a verdict of not guilty, after having been out three and one-half hours. The defendants were tried in the United States court under what is known as the "ku klux" law, the prosecution being conducted by United States Attorney White. The trial which has been in progress for more than three weeks, excited great interest.

Down an Embankment.

FRANKLIN, Pa., Sept. 29.—Some boys turned a switch at Cornplanter bridge on the Buffalo, New York & Pittsburgh railroad Sunday night, causing a freight train to fall down an embankment. Engineer Collins was badly injured; James, Clara and Rose Dye, who were in the caboose, were severely bruised.

Base Ball Champions of the World.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—President Spaulding of the Chicagoans, has accepted Mr. Von Der Ane's suggestion that the St. Louis Browns and the Chicagoans play a series of games to decide the championship of the world, if those clubs win the championship in their respective associations. He proposes nine games.

Fell Heir to a Quarter of a Million.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 29.—Pauline Nelson came here for Germany six months ago, and hired out as a domestic. Yesterday she received a message from Germany announcing that she had fallen heir to $250,000 bequeathed by an uncle. She started at once for home.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Gen. Fitzgerald, New York receiver for the Charter Oak, says he has secured possession of $700,000 worth of real estate belonging to the company, and thinks he will get whatever more there is in this state.

Test Proved Satisfactory.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The government dispatch boat Atlanta has returned to the navy yard from her trial trip. She maintained slightly higher speed than was required by the contract and the test was satisfactory.

Connecticut's Governor Renominated.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 29.—Hon. E. S. Cleveland, of Hartford, was nominated for governor by the Democratic state convention.
